Seek to Force Board To Provide Children With Transportation

Lisbon, Feb. 9.—Edward Hagan of Hanover township, charged with failure to send his children to school, waived a hearing when the case was called for trial in common pleas No. 2 with Justice of the Peace M. K. Zimmerman presiding, and was then bound over to the grand jury under $250 bond.

There were over 100 people in the court room when the case was called, all being residents of Hanover township. Attorney E. P. Speidel of Alliance represented the defendant and Prosecuting Attorney John E. Baucknecht the state.

Mr. Speidel, when the case opened, waived a hearing and within an hour a transcript had been filed with Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine.

Recently Hagan went into common pleas court with a mandamus petition for the purpose of having the Hanover township board of education furnish transportation for the children of the defendant. The court dismissed the petition, dividing the costs equally between Hagan and the Hanover township board of education.

TOTAL TO FACE RIFLES TODAY

Slayer of Obregon Ready For End; Sees Babe
For First Time

Mexico City, Feb. 9.—Calmly resigned to his fate, Jose de Leon Toral, slayer of President-elect Alvaro Obregon, prayed as his last hours passed today and the time set for his execution drew nearer.

Through his counsel, the condemned man sent out word that he was ready for his end.

"If my death will benefit the religious conflict," he said, "I am glad to die."

Throughout the night, a priest consoled Toral in his cell and heard his confession. Prison officials overlooked legal technicalities furnished by the restrictive religious laws in permitting the priest to stay with the doomed slayer.

HOMER KERR, 72, DIES SATURDAY; STROKES FATAL

Salem Man Had Served 48 Years As Agent For Pennsylvania Railroad

Homer D. Kerr, 72, retired Pennsylvania railroad agent, died at 10:30 a. m., Saturday at his home on the Franklin rd., southeast of Salem.

Five years ago Mr. Kerr suffered a stroke of paralysis, a recurrence of which came two years ago. The third stroke, which attacked him last Monday night, proved fatal.

For 48 years Mr. Kerr had been passenger and freight agent for the Pennsylvania railroad company. Having entered its employ as a young man, he was ticket agent at Sewickley, Pa., for a short time and until five years ago was agent at the Salem station. At that time he was retired on pension.

Mr. Kerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Clement Kerr, was born near Damascus and was reared south of Salem. Practically his entire life had been spent near this city.

Active in grange work, Mr. Kerr was a past master of Perry grange. He was a member of the four branches of Odd Fellowship in Salem and was affiliated with the Junior Order of American Mechanics in Pittsburgh.

Thirty-eight years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Emma Weaver, who survives with three sons: Jesse, of Pittsburgh; Elmer L., student at Ohio university, Athens, Ohio; and Homer S., student in Salem High school.

These three brothers also survive. Jesse Kerr of New Brighton, Pa.; William Kerr of Conkle, Ohio; and John Kerr of Salem.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Methodist church. Friends may call at the home at any time after Saturday evening.

CHURCH REJOICES OVER AGREEMENT

Ceremonies of Papal Coronation To Be Combined With Academy Services

Rome, Feb. 9.—Church ceremonies beginning tomorrow in celebrating the seventh anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius XI will also embrace ceremonies of the joy over the accord between the Catholic church and the Italian state.

Next Tuesday is the actual date of the anniversary of the Pontiff's coronation, but a solemn Te Deum will be sung tomorrow in the Basilica of St. John Lateran, which adjoins the Lateran palace.

The treaty of conciliation between the Vatican and the state will be signed Monday in the Lateran palace.

Reports that a group of cardinals and archbishops might be appointed senators in the Italian parliament were said today to be groundless.

It is now understood that the reason the Pope abandoned the original plan for extension of Vatican territory is that he preferred, instead of territorial extension, the official recognition of extra-territorial rights for many church properties scattered throughout Rome.

Church Workers To Gather In Meeting

Workers on the religious survey of the city will meet at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Memorial building to receive instructions for the survey, which will be given by Dr. P. H. Gordon, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The workers will have a week in which to complete their task.

This survey is sponsored by the Salem Ministerial association and has been endorsed by the Protestant and Catholic churches.

THIRTEEN MEASURES PASS LEGISLATURE DURING PAST WEEK

Bender Bill Passage Fulfills Campaign Pledge Of Governor Cooper; Seventy-Six Measures
Introduced In Four-Day Session

Columbus, O., Feb. 9.—Redemption of one of Governor Myers Y. Cooper's campaign pledges, and activities looking toward the possible impeachment of former State Treasurer Bert B. Buckley featured the work of the Ohio legislature this week.

After introducing 76 new bills and passing 13 measures during the four days the session was in session, the senate and house recessed late Thursday until 7 p. m. Monday. Of the new bills, 55, were offered in the house and 21 in the senate.

The senate and house this week passed the Bender bill repealing the measure enacted two years ago which increased the state tax from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent on excess premiums on foreign insurance companies operating in Ohio. This measure was endorsed by the governor during his gubernatorial campaign last summer and in his recent legislative message.

Buckley Proceedings
At the suggestion of the governor, the house, Monday night, authorized Speaker O. C. Gray to appoint a committee to conduct an investigation and report as to the advisability of instituting impeachment proceedings against Buckley who, up to that time, had rejected the governor's request that Buckley resign as state treasurer. Two days later, the house discharged this committee when Governor Cooper informed it that Buckley had resigned and that the governor had accepted his resignation.

Both legislative branches, this week, adopted the following joint resolutions: By Sen. Robert Rehe, Tiffin, memorializing congress to re-allocate radio wave channels on the basis of the population of the various states; and by Sen. George H. Bender, Cuyahoga county, providing for a joint legislative committee, including Lieut. Gov. John T. Brown and Speaker Gray, to represent Ohio at the inauguration of Herbert Hoover as president of the United States at Washington, D. C., March 4.

KING GEORGE AT SEASHORE HOME

Throng Cheers Monarch Despite Warning To Be Quiet; Sight
Of King Inspiring

London, Feb. 9.—King George left Buckingham Palace at 10:37 a. m., today in a huge specially built ambulance bound for Craigwell House at Bognor, where he will complete his convalescence.

His majesty waved his hand to a huge throng which had gathered outside the palace gates early in the morning to witness his departure.

It was the first time he had been out of the palace in almost three months.

The crowd about the palace had been warned to stand in absolute silence in order not to disturb the king.

But the sight of their beloved monarch waving to them after having been so close to death was too much for those in the waiting throng and a tremendous cheer went up as the ambulance came through the main gate.

Queen Mary followed in a limousine five minutes later.

George Lewis, Jr., son of Fire Captain and Mrs. George Lewis, Lincoln ave., ended his third year of service in the United States Marine Corps this month, and is now located at the Marine Corp base, in San Diego, Cal.

Lewis enlisted in the Marines in Youngstown, Feb. 3, 1926, and was immediately sent to Parris Island, S. C., for an eight weeks' training period. He was transferred from the training camp to Quantico, Va., and there was selected one of 30 Marines from the entire base, to guard the U. S. mails, being sent from St. Louis, Mo., to Memphis, Tenn.

He was detailed to the mail trains in March, 1927, and in September, was granted a ten day furlough. About to leave for home, where he would see his parents for the first time since shortly after his enlistment, he was due for a great disappointment, when the call was issued for his entire detachment to begin preparations for a trip overseas, to China, where Chinese difficulties were reaching a strained point.

The cruise to China started early in April, 1927, and the Marines, including the Salem youth, arrived at their destination Easter Day, and

SHERIFF BARLOW PLANS WAR ON ILLEGAL DRIVING

Lights On Autos at Night
Will Draw Attention
Of County Patrol

Lisbon, Feb. 9.—A drive that will be continued for many months was launched Friday night by Sheriff William J. Barlow, and Deputy Sheriffs George Harroff and Gomer Lewis operating automobiles at night with one head light and without tail lights.

"Operating an automobile with but one head light and also no tail light is a dangerous practice, and is a direct violation of the automobile laws," Sheriff Barlow said. "The laws are put on the books to be enforced, and we are going to enforce them. This is a public safety measure."

"There have been too many cars observed on the roads of late with no tail lights and only one head light, and there is no excuse for the present situation. We have begun to patrol the highways, and will continue to do so indefinitely."

"While we want to be fair with the motoring public, we must also be fair to those who do observe the laws while driving at night. It is also the intent of this office to enforce all traffic laws. The sheriff added.

Fire Chief's Convention of '30 May Be Held In Salem

1931 Date Assured As Malloy Should Head
Group Then

Possibilities that the annual Ohio Fire Chief's convention will be held in Salem in either 1930 or 1931 were seen today following the pre-convention meeting held at Columbus Thursday and Friday. The 1929 meet is in Sandusky.

Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy, second vice president of the association, will make a strong bid to have the convention held in this city, at this year's meeting, which will be held June 4, 5, 6 and 7, it was stated today.

According to the custom of the organization, each year the officers are moved forward, the vice president succeeding the president and the second vice president moving up to the regular vice officer's post.

The president has full power to name his home city as the place where the convention is to be held during his term of office, this year's chief officer, Jack Curtis, of Sandusky, selecting the site.

If the present vice president, who is from Tiffin, waives his right to the choice of naming the place where the convention is to be held after he becomes president, Malloy will campaign to have it held here next year.

That Salem will be selected for 1931 is held as a certainty, when Malloy becomes president in that year.

Plans for the meeting this year were made at the meeting, held in the state fire marshal's office, Columbus, Thursday and Friday. Mayor Phil G. Hiddelson, Malloy, and several members of the Salem fire force will represent Salem.

Weather Prophet Promises Spring, But Shivers Reign

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 9.—Had P. Connor, Kansas City's weather forecaster, been at large on the streets this morning, the chances are he would have been stoned, mobbed or suffered some similar fate. For, to him, is accredited the statement today that "spring is only 20 days away."

Kansas citizens shivered, stomped and swore as the temperature hovered a niche or two below the zero mark this morning. To make matters worse, little relief has been promised for today, and the author of the cantankerous statement concerning spring does not promise relief before tomorrow.

The cold spell, said to be the coldest of the season, is extensive of the Missouri Valley. Thus far, no deaths have been reported from freezing in the outlying districts.

STREET PETITION READ IN COUNCIL

High Street Residents Given Due Consideration On Early Document
Member of Council Says

The petition by residents of High st., which requested city council to leave the name of the street unchanged was not presented to Mrs. Anna Stratton, city council member, according to a statement by Mrs. Stratton.

The petition, however, was presented to city council and read at a regular meeting and filed by that body several weeks ago, Mrs. Stratton states.

At the last meeting of the city council, when all petitions regarding street legislation were considered, the High st. document was given second consideration because of the early date at which it was presented to council. The body did not feel that the 37 names on the petition were sufficient to warrant retention of the name, Mrs. Stratton stated.

Frank Heckert, a High st. resident, had asked disposition of the petition.

MALT SALES TO BE ILLEGAL IN NEW MEASURE

Bill Would Provide Fines
For Possession Or Vending

CLAIMS PRODUCT FLOODING STATE

Blames Raids On Private Residences On Home
Made Product

St. Clairsville, O., Feb. 9.—A bill, which would make the sale and possession of malt syrup for "home brew" purposes punishable by a fine, or imprisonment, or both, will be introduced in the Ohio legislature at Columbus Monday by Representative Willard Piper, of Belmont county, according to that member of the lower house here today.

The measure, Piper said, would make the sale of malt by stores in Ohio on par with the sale of whiskey, wine and beer, as prohibited by the 18th amendment and the various subsequent prohibition laws.

First violation of the proposed law would carry with it a fine of not less than $50 or more than $500. A second offense would bring a fine of not less than $100 or more than $500, or imprisonment in the Ohio state penitentiary for from one to five years, or both.

Provision is made, however, for the sale of malt to bakeries, candy factories and other legitimate business where the use of malt syrup is "necessary."

It will be the duty of the state prohibition department to enforce the measure, if it becomes a law, Piper said.

The bill if made an Ohio law will be of far reaching magnitude, Piper claims, owing to the alleged malt combine which has been "flooding the state."

"I will declare war on the malt industry," Piper continued, "at least one-third of offenders arrested in Belmont county during the past two years, have been charged with possessing 'home-brew' manufactured from malt syrup purchased at the corner grocery."

"Private homes have been made the target for prohibition raiders during the last five years, why should the malt combine be allowed to create all this disturbance by a legal sale of their product?"

PUPILS ESCAPE DEATH IN CRASH

Portsmouth, O., Feb. 9.—Twenty-eight students of Webster school were today kept busy recounting their narrow escape from death or serious injury near here, late yesterday afternoon, when the school bus in which they were riding was struck by an auto and pushed into Frederick creek, near Scioto furnace.

Three of the pupils required medical attention, but their hurts are not thought to be serious.

Jack Jenkins, superintendent of the Dee clay mine, was said to have been the driver of the car that struck the school bus.

One side of the bus was badly damaged. Passing motorists aided in extricating the children from the bus. All were eighth grade or high school students. No panic or excitement was evidenced when the bus crashed.

RADICALISM FAILING HERE

Commenting a day or two ago on the vote received by each of the candidates for president at last November's election, we call attention in these columns to the exceeding smallness of the total of the votes received by the minority candidates compared with the total of all the votes cast, something like 500,000 out of 37,000,000, and we expressed the opinion that there was little chance that this country might become another Russia so long as the ratio of conservatives to radicals was so overwhelmingly great.

As a matter of fact, the gap is not decreasing. It is widening. The minority party vote was smaller last year than it has been at any presidential election since 1900. Take the Socialist vote by way of illustration. It can hardly be held that Norman Thomas was a weak candidate from a Socialistic standpoint. Intellectually, he was easily the best candidate the Socialist party ever ran, and there can be no question of his commitment to the party cause. Yet we find him receiving the smallest vote given a candidate of his party in 24 years.

The trouble with the Socialist theory is that it will not work here in the United States. The worker here in America is not class conscious, as he is over in Europe. Over there the worker never visions himself out of his class. He recognizes himself as a follower of this trade or that, as a member of this guild or that, and never thinks of himself as anything else. Over here the worker does not recognize any class distinctions. Over here he doesn't look at himself as he is today, but sees himself as he may be 10, 20 or 30 years hence. He knows, from the experience of others, that the door of opportunity is open wide to him and that there is no insurmountable bar to his advancement, if he has the ability to advance. Hence it is that the Socialistic theory doesn't strongly appeal to him.

And the reds suffer a similar handicap. The Red idea is to dodge work and live off the labor of others. Too lazy to work, they seek to grasp the fruits of the labors of those who do. The lack of appeal of the Red doctrine here is that there are in this country too many home-owners, too many holders of stocks and bonds, too many with savings and checking accounts, too many financially interested in industry and business, too many carrying insurance and too many anxious to advance beyond their fellow-men. All of these combine to form a mighty wall against the advance of communism. All of these are enemies of anarchy. They are not ready to surrender what they have, but they are at all times ready to protect their accumulations. And this is why socialism and communism are steadily losing out in the United States.

What Others Say

Is a motorist absolved from responsibility for hitting pedestrians crossing against the traffic control light? This was the question which was presented recently to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia. A woman was leading her blind daughter across the street. When they started, the light was in their favor, but before they had reached the opposite side, the lights had changed to amber and then to red. A motorist whose vision was obscured by another car started ahead and struck the mother and daughter.

"It was his duty," the court said, "to see and to know that pedestrians were not in his road." Drivers of automobiles should remember that pedestrians have the right-of-way on all crossings excepting at controlled crossings where they have that right-of-way continues that right-of-way to enter upon the crossing when the crossing is open; until they have reached the opposite curb.

That was a wise decision. The traffic light is a mechanical contrivance and nothing more. The flashing of its lights does not absolve any one of his moral and legal responsibilities, even in an age in which mechanical progress is rapid and reliance upon mechanisms is habitual. A railroad engineer who ran into a standing train which was plainly visible and justified himself by saying that the signs had turned in his favor would be guilty of gross negligence, Chicago Tribune.

SOMETHING WRONG IF YOU'RE ALWAYS COLD

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator From New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

Frequently I am asked to explain the significance of chilliness, or the actual chill which is frequently the first symptom of influenza or some other disease. Many of the serious diseases are ushered in with this symptom.

Frequent chilliness may be an evidence of impairment of the circulation. The heart is not functioning as it should. It does not drive the blood in forceful streams to every part of the body. This in turn comes from some impairment of the bodily vigor.

There are many things that lower human vitality. Overwork, loss of sleep, need of a vacation, domestic discord, lack of human interest, as well as the many infections to which the body is subjected, may be the cause for lowered vitality of which chilliness is a symptom.

It is tremendously important that everyone should eat regularly. Every body should take enough of the

The Stars Say—

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE.
For Sunday, Feb. 10.

SUNDAY'S horoscope accents things of church and charities, but gives a melancholy cast to things mystical. It would be well not to get distorted views or erratic outlook on psychic or mystical matters. There will be a leaning toward occult and metaphysical investigation.

Those whose birthday it is may have a fairly active and prosperous year, especially if the energies be turned to travel, invention and dealing in all those things utilizing nature's finer forces. But be on guard against fraud and duplicity. A child born on this day may have skill and inventive ideas in the realm of the finer forces. But it may be undermined or deceived by subtlety and craft.

A good man's prayers will from the deepest dungeon climb Heaven's height and bring a blessing down.
—Joanna Baillie.

For Monday, Feb. 11.

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for an exceedingly fortuitous state of affairs. There will be expansion and progress in many directions, with the energies under high stimulus and aimed toward high successful goals. New agreements and pleasant affiliations are foreseen. It is a time for pushing.

Those whose birthday it is are at the threshold of a very progressive and prosperous year, with all things expanding and thriving. New associations and pleasant contacts personally are promised. A child born on this day may be endowed with many qualities and graces making for a successful and happy life.

Super to prosper than prosperity
I have assured us.—Milton.

and rapid breathing will warm the body and remove the feeling of chilliness.

Don't get into your head the idea that every time you feel chilly you are going to be sick. This is not the case. But unless there are very obvious reasons why you are chilly, it is because you are neglecting some of the things which make for good circulation and good health.

Answers to Health Queries
C. W. Q.—What can be done for holes or enlarged pores left by pimples?
A—Try alternate application of hot and cold compresses for five or ten minutes twice daily. Avoid the excessive use of powder and cold cream which tends to clog the pores and thus coarsen the grain of the skin.

R. Q.—What causes granulated eyelids?
A—This condition is due to infection. Bathe with a mild solution of warm boric acid several times a day and apply 1 per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment at night. Also have the eyes tested to see if glasses are needed.

There can be no doubt, however, that if you linger too long over your work, if you get thoroughly worn out with it you are making unreasonable demands upon your body. You are abusing your heart and blood vessels. Under the strain to which you have subjected your organs you could not expect to have an abundance of blood sent to every part of your body.

Chilliness may be merely a symptom of that lowered vitality. This is temporary of course, but it is very real in its production of symptoms of discomfort.

The blood needs to be replenished and purified all the time. It must have an abundance of oxygen in order to do its work of heating and building.

To have the blood in proper condition, oxygen is essential. To this end deep breathing is of vital importance. You should stand in front of the window several times a day and take a multitude of long, deep breaths. This will do much to supply your blood with elements essential to health and vigor. You will be surprised to find how deep

DIVORCES GIVEN TO PLAINTIFFS

One Action Refused; Decree Altered In Other Case

Salem, Feb. 9.—In the divorce action filed by Ila Ferguson against her husband John D. Ferguson Sept. 21, 1925, and heard by Judge Carpenter May 28, 1926, when a decree was granted the plaintiff, Judge Lones has modified the decree giving to do with the custody of minor children, who have now been awarded the plaintiff. Judge Carpenter had placed the children at the time the case was heard in the custody of Deborah Plummer.

A divorce has been refused Katharina Vogelhuber on her petition filed against her husband Samuel Vogelhuber. The case was set for trial before Judge W. F. Lones Friday and the plaintiff failed to appear.

The defendant had filed a cross petition, and the issue sent before the court on the petition of the plaintiff. The court held that inasmuch as the plaintiff was not in court she was not entitled to a decree or to any alimony so long as she remains away from the defendant.

The costs entered on the cross petition are to be paid by the defendant. The costs entered on the petition are to be paid by the defendant, and those on the original petition are to be paid by the plaintiff.

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, a divorce decree has been granted John Davidson against her husband Donald Davidson. The custody of minors has been awarded the plaintiff, and the defendant has been ordered to pay $10 per week for the support of his children. The court has also given the plaintiff as further alimony all of the furniture that she had been using in housekeeping, and Davidson was ordered to deliver these at once.

Extreme cruelty was charged in the divorce petition filed by Edna May Lisk against her husband Howard P. Lisk, and a decree has been granted the plaintiff on these grounds. The plaintiff has been restored to her maiden name, Edna Davis.

Filles Intent

A declaration of intent to become a citizen of the United States has been filed with Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine by Andreas Steeb, aged 31, a cabinet maker, and residing at 127 North Howard st., Salem. He entered the United States at Niagara Falls, N. Y., Jan. 14, 1928, and is a native of Germany.

Similar declaration has been filed by Karl Slegler, aged 33 years, a carpenter, residing at Salem and also a native of Germany. He arrived at New York Dec. 18, 1927.

NEWS IN BRIEF

San Francisco — Organization of an American Legion football league for 1929, which would embrace 25 teams, is being discussed among Legion officials here. Plans are being worked out to give active support to the Legion junior baseball program.

New York—Paul Block, owner of the Newark Bears, is reported to be dickering for the purchase of the Philadelphia National League club, W. P. Baker, present owner of the team, is said to be ready to dispose of his holdings to Block as he is in poor health.

New York—Max Schmeling, whose sensational knockout of Johnny Risko put him on the top rung of the heavyweight ladder, developed his peculiarly effective weaving style in the ring from watching motion pictures of Jack Dempsey in action in his native Germany.

London — Because they believe feminine stage stars are habitually careless, British insurance companies, generally willing to accept any and every kind of risk, are reluctant to insure an actress's jewels.

Activities Among Dwellers of Mahoning County Farms

Frank Agnew, president of the Mahoning County Farm bureau, was invited, as a representative of that organization, to sit in on a meeting along with Sheriff Adam Stone, three Mahoning county judges, and a committee from the chamber of commerce, to attempt a revision of space in the Mahoning county court house. The building is now too small and some improvement is necessary.

Farm Bureau Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Greene township bureau will be held in the Greenford grange hall, Monday evening, February 11 at 8 o'clock. Due to unfavorable weather conditions only a few people attended the January meeting so the program planning for this year's work will be discussed at this meeting. Reports will be given by those men and women who attended Farmers' Week. Musical selections, and other interesting features will be in the evening's program.

Passes Million Mark

The Farm Bureau Mutual Automobile Insurance company of Columbus is the first project of farm bureaus of the state to pass the million dollar mark in earned resources, says H. W. Zuercher, service manager of the Mahoning County Farm bureau. The mutual, which serves farmers only, reached this mark in resources just before the first of the year, although having been in operation less than three years.

The farmers' mutual was started in April of 1926, after a survey made by farm bureau officials. This survey, says Mr. Zuercher showed that farmers were not adequately protected in automobile insurance, and that a mutual organization, confining its operations to farmers only could put insurance protection within the financial reach of every farmer, because of the preferred risk. The farm car, it was shown, is not used as often nor in as much heavy traffic as the average car owned in the city.

The Farm Bureau company, which was originally started to serve Ohio farmers, has now spread its operations to seven states at the request of farmers, there, and has issued more than 47,000 policy holders.

Healthy Pullet Plan

"Grow Healthy Pullet Plan" is the new project in poultry work which is to be launched in Mahoning county this year. How to raise the pullets free from worms and diseases is the aim of the plan. Enrollment cards will be sent out next week. Timely bulletins will be mailed to those who enroll and at least one meeting planned with poultry specialist from the university.

H. W. Zuercher, service manager, shipped three truckloads of reactor cattle to the Cleveland stock market this week.

Farmers Meet

Among those who attended Farmers' Week at Columbus from Mahoning county are as follows: Miss Florence Booth, home demonstration agent; M. R. Wright, county agent; H. W. Zuercher, service manager; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Agnew, delegates from the Mahoning County Farm bureau; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Martin, A. G. Coburn, Mrs. D. R. McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Good, William Kenrich, Mrs. George Sheets, Mrs. Olive Renkenberger, Mrs. Emlon Taylor, E. L. Longacker, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sherman from the Mahoning County Experiment farm.

Holstein Banquet

Don't forget the date of the Holstein banquet, Feb. 27. Prof. Oscar Erf, head of the dairy department at Ohio State university will be the main speaker of the evening.

Wool Growers Meet

The annual meeting of the Mahoning County Wool growers will be held at the home of C. L. Manchester, Canfield, Ohio, Friday, Feb. 15 at 1 o'clock. A sheep salesman from our own commission firm at Cleveland has been secured to tell us something about marketing, and grades of sheep and lambs. C. C. Barr, district man from Columbus, will be with us.

Ross Wright, county agent, will sum up the sheep industry in Mahoning county at the present time.

New officers will be elected as well as delegates appointed to represent Mahoning county at the State Wool Growers meeting which is to be held in Columbus, Feb. 27 and 28. Anyone interested in sheep is cordially invited to attend.

Desserts for Children

Meal preparation will be simplified if the desserts for the daily meals are something that will be suitable for the children of the family, as well as others.

Simple desserts which are less work will often fit into the meal better than pies and other pastries.

Fruits, both fresh, dried and canned, offer a variety of attractive desserts. Citrus fruits especially, are valuable at this time of year when there is so much sickness and we should be building up resistance to disease.

Custards and junket, rice and tapioca puddings aid in getting enough milk into the child's diet. These may be served plain or with various fruit flavors, or in different combinations.

Spanish cream makes a nice dessert for children, as well as grown-ups: 2½ T. granulated gelatin, 3 C. milk, 3 egg yolks, 3 egg whites, ½ C. sugar, ¼ t. salt, 1 t. vanilla.

Soak gelatin in a little cold milk, then dissolve in scalded milk. Mix sugar and slightly beaten egg. Add hot milk to this slowly. Return to double boiler and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, add salt, flavoring, and whites of eggs, beaten stiff. Turn into mold first dipped in cold water. Chill. Serve with cream. This recipe serves 8 persons.

Is the Laborer Worthy of His Hire?

This Valuable Service Deserves Adequate Compensation

YOU will probably be surprised to learn that a great majority of checking accounts are handled by banks at a loss. There are two main reasons for this. First, more than 90% of all business transactions involve the use of checks. The service is so convenient, accurate, safe, and so economical of time that nearly everyone pays by check nowadays.

Second, cost of bank service has risen in keeping with everything else during the past dozen years. Running expenses have gone up 60%; taxes 60%; salaries 80%; nearly everything else doubled.

At the same time, the source and rate of bank income from checking accounts has not kept pace. As a result, many checking accounts which formerly earned enough to offset the cost of service are now handled at a loss.

Would You Go Back?

No one who has ever known the convenience, safety, and prestige value of a checking account would willingly go back to the old, risky, time-consuming method of handling funds in cash. The check is the modern, efficient, business-like way to transfer money. The service is of sufficient value to make most people willing to pay money for it. But banks only ask that enough money be left on deposit to permit each account to earn its own way.

The Profits of a Substantial Balance

The surprising fact is that the greatest profit of a substantial balance comes to the depositor himself. The bank is only a custodian of the funds. Its returns are more or less fixed. But the depositor gains in many ways.

A surplus is proof of business ability. It shows balanced judgment in providing liquid funds to seize opportunities and to offset possible reverses. It builds credit. It raises personal morale of the owner. An adequate balance in your checking account will profit you handsomely in many ways.

Get in touch with your banker and let him show you the advantages of building your balance. A larger reserve will give the bank reasonable compensation for this service, and bring to you the substantial gains your judgment deserves.

Women Not Good Losers; Cheat To Win, Says Famous Croupier

Paris, Feb. 8.—Women are not good losers when it comes to gambling. However, they are less likely to lose since they are inclined to do a little cheating when required to patch up bad luck. M. Paul de Ketchiva, Monte Carlo croupier for many years says these things in a recently published book of memoirs.

M. de Ketchiva has been in the profitable end of the gambling business for 30 years. He started at Monte Carlo long before the World war at the then princely salary of $2,000 per year. During his career he has turned down bribes totaling millions of dollars.

Lifting a chip or two from neighbors is not exclusively a female sin, but is practiced mostly by members of the fair sex, says M. de Ketchiva. One day Margherita, the Dowager Queen of Italy, was playing at his table when suddenly she found herself accused of chip lifting by another woman player.

Objector Removed

Casino attendants removed the objector. When the latter learned the identity of the person she had accused, she hurried to the queen and excused herself in awkward fashion. The queen looked at her with a cold smile and said: "My dear woman, I have nothing to forgive you, since I cannot remember that anyone has accused me of cheating."

Sarah Bernhardt and Eleonore

Duse often played at de Ketchiva's table. "The Divine Sarah" always lost while the luck of Duse was indifferent. At one time, de Ketchiva recalls, Sarah Bernhardt was on the verge of poisoning herself over the loss of 100,000 francs, but a friend saved her.

At another time, Rudolph Valentino, who was a frequent visitor to the Monte Carlo gambling rooms, saved a woman from suicide at the tables by knocking a poisoned draught of champagne out of her hand.

Prince Carl Snubbed

De Ketchiva tells how Prince Carol of Rumania was snubbed by fellow royalty. On that particular occasion the Crown Prince of Belgium was playing at roulette, with Princess Astrid, his consort, and

Olav, the crown prince of Norway.

Carol of Rumania entered, Madame

Lupescu at his side.

Astrid, Leopold and Olav took no

notice and treated him as the air.

Carol coughed, plainly embarrassed, and moved with Madame Lupescu to another table.

Systems for breaking the bank are no good, declares M. de Ketchiva. Several people have succeeded in "breaking the bank," but not by following any system. Sheer luck is what is needed to achieve the feat, and nothing else.

The best approach to a system is that of playing even chances and doubling four times in event of loss.

It is seldom that the bank wins four times in a row. One cannot break the bank by that system, however, and if it backfires, it breaks the player instead.

Monte Carlo pawnbrokers do a land office business, according to

M. de Ketchiva. Pledges run from diamonds and pearl collars to objects of little or no intrinsic value.

"Uncle" once lent $400 on a baby.

The pawnbroker felt safe, thinking that surely the woman would redeem her own child. But she did not—for the baby was not hers. She had stolen it from another woman!

In the Churches

Church of Our Saviour, 227 McKinley ave. Rev. Christian A. Roth, rector.

Services Sunday, Feb. 10, called Quinquagesima Sunday.

Celebration of the Holy Communion 7:30.

Church school 9:30.

Morning Prayer and sermon 11.

The pre-Lenten dinner for the men of the parish will be served Tuesday, Feb. 12 at 6:30 in the undercroft of the church.

Wednesday is the first day of Lent called Ash Wednesday.

Services on that day will be at 7:10 and 7:30.

Quinquagesima is 50 days before Easter as its name indicates. The Collect or Prayer, which is one of the most beautiful prayers ever framed in human speech, is the fruit of the bright and blissful Reformation and it may well form the basis of our thought this week. "O Lord, who has taught us that all our doings without charity are nothing worth; Send thy Holy Ghost, and pour into our hearts that most excellent gift of charity, the very bond of peace and of all virtues, without which whosoever liveth is counted dead before thee; Grant this for thine only Son Jesus Christ's sake. Amen." The Collect is based upon I Cor. xiii, one of the noblest passages ever penned by the hand of man.

The Ground of the Collect is twofold: (a) a recognition that God's attitude to self-discipline, as taught in Scripture, is that the spirit which animates it and the motive which dictates it are the important things; and (b) the still stronger plea that there is no spiritual life at all in a man who is not the possessor of the Christ-spirit of Love. God is Love and God is Life. To live we must live in God and that means in Love.

The Petition is for a special gift of the Holy Spirit as the author and maintainer in us of true Christian Love. That Love is not mere human morality at its best. It is essentially Divine. The heathen philosophers had no place for it. Aristotle said: "There is no such thing as love to God; it is an absurd thing to speak of anything of the kind—for God is an unknowable being."

No wonder the ancient world had no place for love in its ethic! Love is practically a Christian word.

Without love any moral excellencies we may possess are not part of a personality which is really good in God's sight. Love makes all other virtues a complete whole. A man might be just and impartial and yet, if without love, be led to decisions actually unjust, because oblivious of the unseen causes of another's fault, things which love can feel and make allowance for, but of which strict law can take no account. "To know all is to pardon all."

Red and Black Teams Oppose Wellsville Basketeers Tonight

STONEMEN EASILY DEFEAT LISBON HIGH TOSSERS BY 41-16 SCORE

County Seat Quintet Outclassed By Crack Red and Black Squad

Salem High continued its march towards its fifth consecutive Columbiana county basketball championship, last night, journeying to Lisbon, where Coach Blackwell's Blue and White cagers were given an overwhelming 41-16 setback, for the Stonemen's fifth straight county victory.

Lisbon, cellar occupants in the county loop, failed to offer any opposition whatever to the Red and Black, Coach Floyd Stone's proteges holding a commanding lead throughout the fracas.

Salem High girls were eliminated from their section of the county race, when Lisbon maidens displayed a strong defense and held the Red and Black sextet to six field goals, to register a 27-21 victory.

Sidinger Returns

With Captain Ed Sidinger back in the lineup, the Stonemen had little difficulty with the county seaters, who were able to tally only six field goals during the 32 minutes of action. Salem held an 11-2 lead at the end of the first quarter, and had a 21-9 advantage at the half.

At the start of the final session, with his team still holding an overwhelming margin, Stone inserted an entirely new team, the new aggregation playing a much classier offensive game than the preceding combination, tallying 12 points to four by the Lisbonites in the period.

Uses Two Teams

The first aggregation appeared content to coast, after piling up the early lead, and to all appearances, might have amassed a much larger total than that run up. Captain Sidinger and Freddie Guilford were at the guards; Glenn Whinnery at center, and Jimmy Scullion and Greenisen performed at offensive posts for the starting crew.

Cope at center; Sartick and Van Blaricom, guards, and Smith and Beck, forwards, formed the second combination. Len Yates and Sam Easter lanky freshmen, being injected into the game later in the period.

Strong Defense

Lisbon's powerful defensive was too strong for the Salem lassies, and Coach Anne Oelschlaeger's sextet, given the inside edge for the county silk after its overwhelming victory over East Palestine last week, was forced to bow in defeat in its second county contest this year. The last period was the only time during the game at which the Red and Black team's play even approached that of other games this season.

The Blue and White representatives were outscored, 16-8 in the final half, but the 19-11 lead accumulated by the Lisbon tossers in the opening quarters proved too great a handicap.

The game was one of the roughest affairs of the season, 33 fouls being called.

Salem High Combine Close County Action With Three Contests

Attention of the entire Columbiana basketball fandom is focused tonight on the impending crucial contest, which brings together Floyd Stone's flashy Red and Black hardwood artists, for their fifth county contest of the season and Wellsville High tossers.

Not that the game is the most outstanding of the season is this attention centered towards the Salem High gym tonight—it is the undebatable fact that the orange and black may revolutionize things in the county battle for titular honors by setting the Quaker Citizens back for their first defeat in the county competition this season, that causes this lion's share of concentration of basketball minds in this direction.

Salem appeared to have everything settled to its own desires after the East Palestine game last week, when the Brown and White tossers were handed a two-point licking, and the county title was already being conceded to it by most of the schools in the area. However, it is the great possibility that causes the interest in tonight's occasion.

The Red and Black will either flare-up of class shown by Columbiana and Lisbon. Who will eventually win the title is a matter of plenty of argument and bickering.

Salem Should Win
Coach Stone's proteges, it isn't doubted in the least, should annex with ease, their fifth straight county verdict, and stop all debates as to who really is the county champ in their fight. Wellsville furnished slight opposition for the first half of the game played away from here several weeks ago, but it was all Salem in the final session.

Sidinger and Guilford will probably be Stone's choice for guards; Whinnery is expected to be detailed to the pivot-post, and Greenisen and Scullion will possibly start at forwards. For the Orange and Black, Pacey and Snowden are backed as forwards; Nelson is slated for the center berth with Wyper and Thompson at guards.

The Salem girls will have to snap out of it and play a lot classier ball than was exhibited at the county seat last night in order to keep clear out of seclusion in the county limelight. A win over Wellsville will keep the team among the first four, but chances for the title are dim. The only way for Salem to base a claim for the title is for the other teams to play each other and split even in the games played, while the Salemites remain idle. The Lisbon defeat eliminated all chances for Salem's claim.

Reserves Game at 7.
Coach Ruffner's reserves will meet Wellsville reserves in the opener tonight at 7 o'clock, the girls' game being billed for about 8:15. The final is not due to start before 9:15, so shoppers will have plenty of time to get back from buying excursions through the downtown district, while the lateness of the game is also fixed to accommodate merchants.

Columbiana High Teams Lose Two

East Palestine High teams squashed any aspirations Columbiana teams may have had for boys' and girls' county championships, last night, the Brown and White emerging victors in both games played at Columbiana.

East Palestine boys, flashing a fine offensive, led the Red and White all the way in the feature game, and gained a 27-17 decision, while Brown and White lassies won by a 28-25 score.

Mollenkopf, with 11 points, and Smith, registering 10, were high scorers of the main event.

An early lead, collected by the Palestine maidens was the factor in their win, the Brown and White holding a 16-6 lead at the half. Shenk and Bott were outstanding performers.

The largest crowd in Columbiana cage history attended the contests.

FREEDOM GASOLINE

must come out

If a mediocre gas goes into your car, mediocre performance comes out.

If FREEDOM Ethyl Gasoline goes into your car, a performance comes out which reveals the car's true value.

Today's crowded thoroughfares, traffic delays, and higher speed requirements on levels and hills alike, suggest the use of gasoline refined for today's motors.

Fifty years' experience in refining gasoline have produced this fuel which takes the knocks out of motors, eliminates vibration, and thus adds to the car's life.

Stop at FREEDOM stations for gasoline. Always mention the name "FREEDOM", for the sake of better motor performance.

How to Keep Flavor and Color in Cooked Vegetables

To cook vegetables correctly so that they will keep their natural flavor and as much of their color as possible is an art. Most cooks manage to take away both color and flavor by overcooking. Vegetables most apt to change flavor in cooking are those of the cabbage family. The protection here is to cook these vegetables and cauliflower, strouts and turnips, in a quantity of fast boiling water, uncovered, until tender, but not soft, the shortest possible time.

Steaming vegetables is preferable to boiling if the meal is on time. For instance, onions are strong juicy, volatile juices that make you cry when paring them; these evaporates in cooking and the vegetable loses its flavor unless cooked rapidly in a quantity of boiling water until tender, but not soft. Uncovered, of course. In cooking fresh asparagus in bundles and stand upright in boiling water so that the tender tips steam while the stalks cook. Cook until tender, not soft.

To keep the color in red cabbage add three pared, cored and sliced apples to the boiling water into which the cabbage, whole or chopped, is put, and also add a quarter cupful of vinegar, or a tumbler of claret if available. Cook rapidly, uncovered, until tender, drain, season with a generous lump of butter, pepper, salt and a quartercupful of sugar. If desired, a very little vinegar may also be added, say two tablespoonfuls only.

A list of vegetables that steam will also good to have in the kitchen. These include squash, sweet white potatoes, wax beans, parsnips, beets, spinach and other tender greens. The water in the steamer must be kept constantly boiling during the time the vegetables are being steamed. If a thin cloth is spread under the cover it will take up the steam so that it does not drip onto the vegetables. Should it do so it is apt to make them soggy. Long cooking, being kept standing hot, either in the oven, on a steam table or over boiling water, will ruin the delicate flavor of the most carefully cooked vegetables, so time their cooking to their serving as nearly as possible.

After beets are boiled rapidly until tender, drain, rub the skins off under cold water, set aside in a cold place if they must stand, then slice, season with butter, pepper, salt, a little sugar and a quarter cupful of vinegar. Reheat, dusting with flour from the dredger until the sauce is thickened and the beets will be a beautiful color. Cook in agate ware, because of the acid.

The loss of color in the cooking of green vegetables is not due to the cooking, but to the decomposition of the coloring matter. If cooked as short a time as possible, in a large quantity of water uncovered, and the water is alkaline, the chances are the color will be preserved. Or, if the water is not alkaline, the smallest amount of baking soda may be added, not more than a quarter of a teaspoonful. Some of the French chefs add a few drops of ammonia to the fast boiling water to accomplish the same object. It depends largely on the Alkaline content of the water used in cooking.

Yellow vegetables do not fade as readily as the green. The coloring matter in them is the same as that which is in butter, milk fat, yolks of eggs and beef fat. Insoluble in water, the color remains unless scorched which will turn the saucy juices dark. The yellow vegetables may be cooked in a small amount of water, steamed, or even in a pressure cooker without being materially injured.

The coloring matter in tomatoes is such that it will stand many ignorant abuses and still retain color. Many vegetables were never intended to be cooked anyway, yet custom and habit makes us do so, but if we must cook them let us do it as carefully as possible and as understandingly.

STYLE FICTS

Paris, Feb. 9.—A lace frock will by no means come amiss these days, according to predictions for late winter and spring evening wear.

The Duchesse de Guise, wife of the present pretender to the throne of France and who, by the way, has very high royal aspirations, has chosen one to wear at the wedding of her daughter, Princess Françoise de France, which will take place shortly at Palermo. Worth is making it of creamy lace embroidered all over the pattern with tiny beads of the same color. The lines of the gown itself are very simple, with dipping points of the lace on the sides and a jeweled belt-buckle.

Another member of the wedding party, Duchess d'Angoulême, the former Princess Anne de France and sister to the bride, whose marriage was one of the biggest French and Italian social events last year in Naples, will wear pink velvet, with a scarf of pale pink point d'esprit falling from one shoulder.

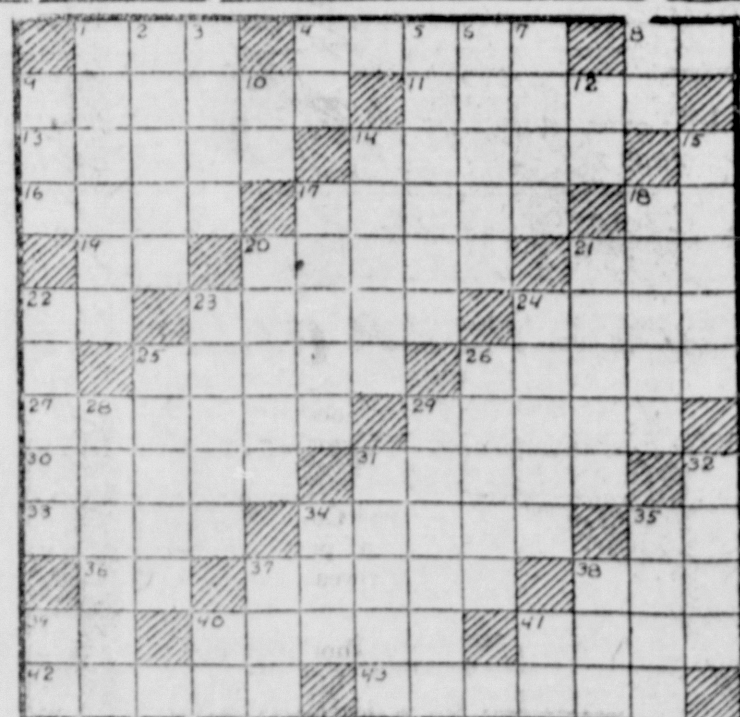

Still another guest has chosen dark beige lace and chiffon for a wedding reception which will follow the ceremony. The bride's mother will wear gray satin with a deep lace hem draped up at the front of the skirt from the trailing hemline in the back. A lace dress either of chenille or large net lace is an excellent thing, especially if its hem is distinctly elongated in both front and back or at both sides. A wide hem of plain tulle is a widely-approved way of giving still more lightness of appearance to such frocks.

Tulle dotted with chenille is also one of the conspicuous successes of the winter season. Dark gray, seal-brown or bottle green are popular shades for lace frocks, as well as the lighter lines in pearly-pink, tea-rose, mastic and abenine.

An Electric Range Never Forgets

Domestic science experts pronounce the Electric Range "almost human." A good comparison, except that the Electric Range can't forget or make mistakes. Cakes won't "fall" in the oven - baked foods are never overdone or underdone; never burned or spoiled, and flavors can't be parched away!

What Makes It So Safe and Certain?

Oven Heat Control maintains a constant baking temperature at the exact degree required for best results.

The Electric Timer automatically starts and stops heat so that baking is finished at any time you choose.

MOVIES In Playhouses Of Salem

Emil Jannings in "Sins of the Fathers;" Gary Cooper and plenty of romance in "The Showman Angel;" William Haines and a vivid plot in "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

This trio of great dramatizations head a list of great representatives of screendom, appearing at Salem playhouses next week. In addition to these three super-productions, there are splendid features which bring to the fore such stars as Phyllis Haver, Renee Adoree, Marion Nixon, Tom Mix, George Lewis, and a galaxy of other heroes and heroines of the silver screen.

Style Show

At the Grand, great throngs are expected to be drawn to the unusual bill of high-class style models being imported here especially to display some of the extraordinary fine merchandise available to buyers of Salem and vicinity in Salem stores.
Famous beauties—the real thing, this time—and not any hocuspocus group of females, stepping into roles of models as a diversion from burlesque roles—make it another of the many attractions of refined theatre fandom of the district.

Opening the week's activities on the screen will be the Jannings entertainment, at the State; the feature melodrama "Geraldine" at the Grand, and at the Royal, the expose of youth, "Jazz Mad." Each will appear on their respective schedules Monday and Tuesday.

"Jazz Mad" is a conglomeration of good acting and a fine, romantic story, with Marion Nixon and George Lewis filling leading roles in fine manner. Jean Harsholt adds to his popularity as a great character actor, by doing a wonderful portrayal of the famous violinist, Franz Hauerman.

Every picture which Jannings has played in for the past year has been exploited as the best of the century.
"Sins of the Fathers" may not be the best the famous character actor has ever played in, but it certainly has never been outclassed for sheer vividness of plot, romance, and impressiveness.

Ruth Chatterton plays the leading feminine part. Throughout the picture characters are portrayed that the entire American public is well, or at least should be well acquainted with. It is a narrative with today's bootlegging situation brought to the fore.

Comedies

A comedy of American youth is the theme running in "Geralddine" at the Grand Monday and Tuesday. Eddie Quillan plays opposite Miss Nixon.

Fun, fun and still more fun, with a quiet atmosphere of romance which reaches a beautiful strained point, at times, is the keynote of "The Showman Angel," at the State Wednesday and Thursday. The show centers on the period just after America entered the World war, and has as leading entertainers Cooper, Paul Lukens and Nancy Carroll.

William Haines forsakes his usual comedy role for a more serious portrayal of the famous hero of crookdom, Jimmy Valentine, at the State Friday and Saturday. An all-star cast of the finest degree of classiness is featured. Karl Dane, Lully Marshall, Leila Hays, and Lonel Barrymore working with Haines to make it one of his best pictures.

Gun-Smuggling

Shady activities of a gun-smuggling ring are pictured vividly in Phyllis Haver's great show, "The Shady Lady," which is at the Grand Wednesday and Thursday. Louis Wolheim and Robert Armstrong are other stars of the first satellite appearing in the scenario.

"Women They Talked About" is being talked about as the Royal's best bid to the attention of the city's theater-goers, and features Irene Rich and Audrey Ferris. It is at the Royal Wednesday and Thursday. Tom Mix returns to his favorite western character, Friday and Saturday, at the Royal, when he grabs off all shoot-'em-down and drag-'em-off honors, in "Outlawed."
Renee Adoree appears at the Grand Friday and Saturday in her latest feature, "The Spieler." This is a romance of carnival life, and has as stars Alan Hale and Fred Kohler, in addition to the famous feminine screen luminary.
